WANT TO KNOW MORE?

This module is an introductory module which aims to cover the fundamentals behind Intellectual Property Rights (IPRs) within a multidisciplinary context consisting of research, development and innovation, entrepreneurship and legal perspective.

"IP is protected in law by, for example, patents, copyright and trademarks, which enable people to earn recognition or financial benefit from what they invent or create. By striking the right balance between the interests of innovators and the wider public interest, the IP system aims to foster an environment in which creativity and innovation can flourish."
